

Community-Led Collaboration Project

We want to hear from local community service providers.

Local community service providers in Kamloops and surrounding areas are invited to participate in a conversation about how to create a better network of services and supports for children and youth with disabilities or support needs in your community.

We'll explore what is working for the families you support, what is missing, and what a better network of services and support could look like in your community to inform the future of services.
